Since 1994 a high service level distributor for the electronic industry

ABOUT EPICOR

Harald Brökling first founded Epicor Components together with an Australian franchise distributor in 1994. We are an informal, flat organisation with short lines, located in an historic bank building in Vlaardingen Ambacht.

Our impressive 26 years of experience has allowed us to build up long-term relationships with suppliers and customers in the industrial, commercial, automotive and medical sectors. In short: a diverse customer package with a diverse team and that's something we're most definitely proud of!

WORKING METHODS EPICOR

Quality is reflected in everything we do. Not just in the product and the service we provide, but also in all our communication. Once we're in receipt of your enquiry, we'll provide you with a quotation as soon as possible. Every single customer has a fixed point of contact, someone who will continuously monitor your current business and who will provide you with complete peace of mind, from the moment you submit your enquiry, right through to the eventual delivery. We pay our suppliers regular visits too and we rate them using our supplier assessment. Maintaining contact with our suppliers is of the utmost importance, as this will allow us to guarantee the quality, price and delivery times for our customers.

QUALITY EPICOR

Quality is something which is in our genes. We have developed specific working methods to be able to guarantee this. We have been accredited with both ISO9001 and ISO14001 and we inform our customers about any PCN's. Our logistics methods also go above and beyond the JEDEC standard.

TEAM EPICOR

Epicor Components is an interesting and internationally oriented company, which specifically focusses on personal growth and quality. We have created an informal atmosphere, the perfect place to enjoy our lunch and work together. We are a close-knit team with a very varied range of tasks and our own customer database. You can always contact us!
